Guide

Give one small worksheet a day. Default card reviews use the selected focus pack; the larger word library is optional.

These are newly authored practice items guided by reviewed learning topics. They are not a complete transcript-derived curriculum or evidence of mastery.

Use fictitious names, addresses and circumstances. Do not ask a learner to publish private life or contact details.

Two recall directions have independent local review histories. A recognition success does not automatically mark Korean production mastered.

The scheduler is SM-2-inspired, not FSRS. Back up before changing device, browser or website address. No teacher inbox or automatic grading service is connected.

Pronunciation is pre-generated Korean neural MP3. A fallback voice is not silently substituted. Report questionable pronunciation to the teacher.

Writing prompts are original workshops, not official TOPIK exam papers. No automated essay score is provided.
